DECEMBER 2007

THE ROCHESTER MASONIC NEWS

Greetings Brethren,

It has been a privilege and an honor to serve the lodge as Worshipful Master for, roughly, the past six years. I cannot thank the members and officers enough who have given the lodge, and myself, their support during this time. I want to especially thank many of the newer members who have given much of their time and enthusiasm this past year and have supported my wife and I during our drastic changes at home.

I am immensely proud of our new officer line. Unbeknownst to me, our incoming Junior Warden, Senior and Junior Deacons got together and determined what chairs they would take during the coming year. In particular, our deacons are recently raised Master Masons who have shown unwavering enthusiasm and great initiative and give me great hopes for our future.

I would like to give a special mention to our secretary, Ed McDonald. The secretary's position is usually held by a brother well versed in the workings of both our lodge and the Grand Lodge. Brother Ed took the position of secretary soon after being raised.

Even after spending a year traveling for his new job (for which there was supposed to be no travel), he has as much zeal for the position as he did when he first took it. Despite being on the road weeks at a time, he would still send letters to potential candidates and route necessary communications from his hotel room. We have flourished in no small part because of his efforts.

One of my great failings has been a lack of awards presentations. This year we will have a proper awards banquet – in conjunction with our Installation of Officers – at the Lodge on December the 8th, beginning at 2:00 p.m. with dinner following the Installation.

Our officers elect are: Scott Hummon, Worshipful Master; Jay Raider, Senior Warden; Jeff Geske, Junior Warden; Christopher Peace, Senior Deacon; Sase Persaud, Junior Deacon. Secretary and Treasurer remain Ed McDonald and Ed Moellering, P.M.

Obediently yours,

Mark Moellering
