Greetings Brothers,

I hope that everyone has had a safe and enjoyable holiday season with their loved ones. It's nice to take this time to appreciate what we have, to help those less fortunate, and to reflect on where we've been and where we're going. The start of a new year brings forth new goals and possibilities. Take a moment to think of something special you'd like to achieve, make a plan, and stick to it. Always look to the lessons you've learned and the brothers you know for inspiration. Remember that time, patience and perseverance accomplishes all things. With that, anything is possible.

New Officers

First off, I wish to congratulate all the newly installed officers of Stony Creek Lodge. Your new positions will bring on great responsibility and challenges that are not to be taken lightly. The honor, glory, and reputation of our institution lie within your hands. Your appearance at our communications and events, individual tasks, and ritual work must be attended to assure our success. Though it may seem a bit shaky at first, our brothers have elected you with great confidence and support. Never be afraid to ask for help or to give help to one another. You will find that a little assistance can go a long way and be very beneficial for all.

Regular Communication

Our first business meeting of the year will be held January 7th. It is my hope to see as many of you as possible since we will have much to tend to. This will be an opportunity for us to put our heads together and discuss an agenda for the next twelve months: which will include events, committees, fundraising, improvements, and general concerns you may have. From our discussion I will create a tentative calendar and set some wheels in motion. There will also be some presentations and other business that will require your attention. Dinner will be at 6:30 P.M., come out and show your support.

Degree Practice and Education

On January 28th, there will be a night of degree practice and education. This will be mandatory for all officers and encouraged for all master masons. We'll run through all three first sections, lines, floor work, and exchange ideas in order to get everyone familiarized with their new roles and on the same page. I urge everyone to review in the meantime so that you'll have a fairly good grasp of your new parts. I find it best to think of myself as the candidate and ask "what kind of impression would I want if that were me?" From this we can assure a great experience for the incoming brother.

Festive Board

At the end of March, Stony Creek will be hosting our first festive board in many years. For those who are unfamiliar with this event, it is a unique formal dinner with your brothers consisting of ritual, guest speakers, and toasts. It'll be a great experience that you'll definitely want to be a part of. This event is open to all brothers, so feel free to invite guests from other Lodges. Tickets will be on sale starting in January through our March business meeting. More information will be available as the details are finalized.

That's all I've got for now. The title of Worshipful Master leaves an indescribable feeling that I'm still getting used to. I very much look forward to leading our great Lodge for this next year. I'm sure I'll be looking to our Grand Lodge, past masters, and other members for wisdom and guidance. Know that I, like many of you share a great passion for our fraternity. Together, we'll continue to shape our Lodge to be the best it can be, side by side in the quarry. Let's proceed as such and do as Masons do best.

See you in Lodge.
